DR. THEOPOLIS MAKES HOUSE CALLS and the fever burns all night

(Portland, OR) From the banks of Oregon's mighty Willamette River comes Dr. Theopolis, Portland's funkier band. Get up and dance. The Doctor is in the house; here to whip you into a feverish frenzy. Funky? Yes. Sexy? Yes. Smooth? Oh yes. Fabulous? Quite. Delicious? Only the tastiest will do. Come to a Dr. Theopolis show and experience the healing.

Dr. Theopolis consists of eight funky and free boys, here to set the sultry scene and groove 'til dawn. EZ Money (Ezra Holbrook) steers the ship as head MC. His bro, Cecil B. Pimpington (Jules Holbrook) follows on vocals and tenor sax. The brothers, like much of the band, have an illustrious history in the homegrown music scenes of Portland and Eugene. Perhaps administering the strongest dose of funk in the funkdom is Mr. Fabulous, he who channels "the powers that be" on the dance floor into something completely supernatural. Audiences eat it up and beg for more.

Dr. Theopolis has performed live in a variety of venues, from the Ohm and Berbat's Pan to Sabala's at Mt. Tabor Pub. Private and corporate performances upon request. Maybe the Doctor will come play for you one day.

"Somewhere between the wacky funk of Parliament, the old-school soul of Ohio Players and modern rap lies the multisensory freak show of Portland's Dr. Theopolis. Onstage, the flawless funk is accentuated by kooky pimp costumes and a dancer named Mr. Fabulous, who struts and gyrates like a mutant leftover from the old 'Dance Fever' TV series." – The Oregonian
